AcroSports is a non-profit center for gymnastics, acrobatics, and circus arts.

Who We Are

Founded in 1993, AcroSports is a non-profit organization dedicated to serving our community through the physical, performing, and circus arts.

AcroSports was founded with Moscow Circus artists and a local San Francisco activist as an organization that would be performance-based, focused on showcasing and demonstrating physical skills. As we have grown, we have never diverged from our focus, mission, and method. Our growth is strategically planned and has buy-in from staff, board, and community.

We serve over 10,000 people each year

Our Programs

Our classes are very accessible, immediate, and exciting to students of all ages and of diverse backgrounds, allowing them to express themselves in very physical ways—giving them an outlet for routing their experiences, especially challenges, into something positive, expressive, and embodied.

Offsite and Outreach

AcroSports reaches out to the community and works with schools, various city programs, and other non-profit organizations. Our Offsite Program takes our gymnastics, circus arts, parkour, and tumbling classes into the community, reaching hundreds of children and youth each year.

Tuition Assistance

AcroSports serves over 10,000 children, youth, and adults at all levels of experience and ability each year—approximately 1,800-2,000 in ongoing classes and the remainder in short-term programs. We have a fee-based structure for those who can afford our programs, and provide tuition assistance and other supports to ensure that those who cannot pay can still have access.
